

The Design & Construction of Affordable Housing: Opportunities for using Scottish Timber & Timber Products

17th January 2006, Newton Hotel, Nairn

Communities Scotland and Forestry Commission Scotland invite you to attend a one-day seminar highlighting opportunities for the design and construction of buildings which maximise the use of sustainable Scottish timber and timber products – drawing on work with affordable housing.

This event will be of interest to architects, engineers, housing associations, building contractors, building surveyors and local authority building control and planning teams. It offers seven hours of CPD.

To reserve a place please complete and return the attached registration form by 6th January 2006.
