

Branching Out

Westonbirt
The National Arboretum

Bring Westonbirt to you with our seasonal outreach sessions

Branching Out

Our 'Branching out' outreach programme invites groups to take part in sensory games, handle tactile natural objects and learn about the uses of trees. Using multi-sensory activities the programme helps trigger memories and encourage conversations to help people share their experiences of trees and nature.

Sessions usually last between 60-90 minutes.

Activities highlight the diversity of our seasons and include:

- Scented apothecary jars
- Scroll-bound canvas photos
- Pine cones, bird nests and eggs
- Wooden tree discs and much more...

Find out more visit

forestry.gov.uk/westonbirt-community

LOTTERY FUNDED

Forestry Commission
England

Westonbirt, The National
Arboretum is cared for by the Forestry Commission.

forestry.gov.uk