

Seminar series 2006/7

Thursdays, Room ES009

Doors open 4 p.m. (tea and coffee available). Presentations start 4.15 p.m.

These talks are open to all

(i.e. students, staff and the general public)

DATE	TOPIC/SPEAKER
12th October 2006	Forest residue harvesting and wood ash recycling - James Walmsley, PhD student, University of Wales, Bangor
2nd November 2006	Analysis of current processes to combat illegal logging and trade - Dr Andreas Ottitsch, Senior Lecturer, National School of Forestry, UCLAN
16th November 2006	10 steps to deer management - Nick Walmsley, Forestry Advisor, The National Trust
30th November 2006	Future Fields Project: Non-food crops at Newton Rigg - Jenny Rogers, PhD student, School of Natural Resources, UCLAN (Penrith)
and	Reintroduction schemes: lessons learnt from a study of water voles in Cumbria - Martin Thomas, PhD student, Department of Forensic and Investigative Science, UCLAN (Preston)
14th December 2006	The future of forest plantations and their sustainability - Professor Julian Evans, Imperial College

Single presentations will last for approximately 45 minutes
(double presentations will last 20 - 25 minutes each).

There will be time for questions at the end of each presentation and a more informal opportunity for discussion with the guest speaker and School of Natural Resources staff will follow in Penrith.

Seminar series 2006/7

Thursdays, Room ES009

Doors open 4 p.m. (tea and coffee available). Presentations start 4.15 p.m.

These talks are open to all

(i.e. students, staff and the general public)

DATE	TOPIC/SPEAKER
25th January 2007	The Environmental Stewardship Scheme – the reality David Morley, Environment Advisor, HH Bowe Land Agents
8th February 2007	Habitat Networks: Principles, Modelling Process & Applications Dr Darren Moseley, Ecology Division, Forest Research
22nd February 2007	The role of plantations in contributing to biodiversity Dr Chris Quine, Head of Ecology Division & Head of Northern Research Station, Forest Research
15th March 2007	Establishment Management Information System (EMIS): decision support for forest restocking Dr Mike Perks, Forest Management Division, Forest Research
29th March 2007	Red squirrel conservation in the north of England Simon O'Hare, Conservation Officer, Cumbria Wildlife Trust
26th April 2007	Remote sensing applications in forestry Juan Suarez, Biometrics Division, Forest Research

Presentations will last for approximately 45 minutes

There will be time for questions at the end of each presentation and a more informal opportunity for discussion with the guest speaker and School of Natural Resources staff will follow in Penrith.

For further information please contact Andrew Weatherall (aweatherall@uclan.ac.uk), Penrith Campus, University of Central Lancashire, Newton Rigg, Cumbria, CA11 0AH
