

Chair

John Moverley

Widely experienced professional with particular experience in land-based further and higher education. Range of board memberships and is a strong advocate for the role and benefits of trees in our society

Forest Industry & Landownership

Andrew Woods

Long standing forestry professional who is a passionate advocate for de-regulation and full recognition of the threats to our trees and woods from pests such as grey squirrel

Phil Wilkinson

Long standing wood processing professional with cross-border experience and an advocate for a sustainable home grown timber industry

Mike Bentley

A forestry professional with a range of experience in public, private and voluntary sectors and a strong interest in the economic viability of woods

Caroline Beddell

Experienced Rural Chartered Surveyor with extensive knowledge and experience of forestry and a passion for the countryside and trees and woodlands

Social, Access & Environment

Paul Esrich

Land management professional with experience in high value landscapes and interest in exploring and enjoying the great outdoors

Alison Millward

Environmental and social professional with a wide range of experience advising Govt and funders and a strong interest in enhancing urban woods to benefit people and wildlife

Paul Cobbing

Land management professional with wide ranging experience in policy and implementation and particular interest in ecosystem services

Dafydd Evans

25 years experience in the water and environment sector. Experience of strategic land use issues, partnership and stakeholder engagement

Local Community, Economy & Government

Martin Sutton

Land management professional with experience in high value landscapes and interest in exploring and enjoying the great outdoors

Nick Grayson

Long standing local authority professional with involvement in a range of research programmes and who has taken a lead in promoting the benefits of urban trees and woods

Chris Rance

Landscape Architect for a large environmental consultancy with a range of experience delivering projects linked to the benefits of urban trees and woods