Access to profitable woodland make woodlands pay their way

- Do you manage woods with difficult access?
- Are you seeking to engage new woodland owning clients?
- Do you want to know how to access 'Roads' grants?
- Do you want to increase your expertise in forest road building?

This free, whole-day workshop for professional woodland managers will explain how to make the most of the Woodfuel Woodland Improvement Grant (Woodfuel WIG) for improving woodland access; how to make an application, and how to build roads to make the most of your clients' investment.

During the day you will learn how the grant operates, understand its technical requirements and be able to compile a Woodland Improvement Grant calculator. You will come away fully equipped to confidently recommend the scheme to owners, help them towards a successful application, and improve the profitability of their inaccessible compartments with high quality, grant-aided roads and tracks.

Topics will include:

- The Woodfuel WIG application process
- How to build forest roads and tracks
- Compliance with Construction, Design and Management regulations
- Management Plan standards for Forestry Commission grant aid
