

Prospectus 2006 – Northwest England Conservancy

The Forestry Commission (England) opened its second Grant Prospectus to applications and grant offers under the English Woodland Grant Scheme (EWGS) in April 2006. This regional Prospectus provides an overview of the grant budgets that will be available in Northwest England in financial year 2007/08. This Prospectus also gives details of special transition arrangements for certain grant applications (under the 2005 Prospectus) due for payment in 2006/07.

EWGS is part of the devolved and targeted approach that was announced in the Government's Rural Strategy, published in 2004. Our regional approach to supporting England's woodlands is described in Annex 1.

As well as assisting delivery against national targets, EWGS will help delivery of the Northwest Forestry Framework (www.iwood.org.uk) - Agenda for Growth. The Framework is intended to be dynamic, inspirational and action-orientated. It is based on six 'Action Areas' covering the issues that matter most to our region.

- Action Area One - Enterprise and industry
- Action Area Two - Regional image
- Action Area Three - Biodiversity and landscape
- Action Area Four - Health, well-being and quality of life
- Action Area Five - Climate change and energy
- Action Area Six - Supporting and resourcing the sector

These 'Action Areas' should remain constant for the twenty-year lifetime of this Framework. The Framework's first action plan will be published in Spring 2006 and will have a shorter, three-to-five-year timeframe.

The Framework is informed by a number of key regional strategies including the Regional Economic Strategy, the Regional Spatial Strategy and the objectives of the region's sustainable development framework. The Framework will assist in delivering these and a number of other regional strategies on a range of issues from biodiversity to climate change, to the development of energy from bio-mass.

Financial Context for Grant Offers

Our budget for grants in 2007/08 will be £1.65 million. After allowing for claims expected in 2007/08 from holders of contracts approved in earlier years, we anticipate that there will be £1.05 million available to support new business, including some rescheduled by agreement with applicants. We plan to allocate this as follows:

- approximately £520,000 for woodland creation;
- up to £200,000 for woodland regeneration and restocking following felling;
- up to £100,000 for woodland accepted into EWGS contracts under the Woodland Management Grant to help secure long-term stewardship of woodlands;
- up to £95,000 will be targeted for specific work on public access and Biodiversity Action Plan priorities to improve woodlands and their benefits to people and wildlife. A further £80,000 will be targeted to improve the condition of woodland SSSIs in private ownership;
- up to £25,000 will be available to support Red Squirrel conservation work in designated Red Squirrel reserves and woodlands within their buffer zones.
- up to £35,000 will be available to support planning and assessment work in woodlands to underpin better subsequent sustainable management;
- WIG Access in the Northwest is spatially targeted. Please ask your Woodland Officer for information.

The actual funds available for payment in 2007/08 will depend on the demand for woodland management and improvement grants under the transition arrangements explained below. We estimate that our existing scheme (mainly WGS) commitments for 2007/08 payments will amount to nearly £595,000.¹

Partnerships support

In addition to our grant budget we will make £130,000 available for regional partnerships. The main partnerships we will be supporting this year are:

- Cumbria Woodlands
- Elwoods
- Lancashire Woodlands Project
- Lake District World Heritage
- 21st Century Coppicing

¹ Commitments are estimates at the time of publication. They vary daily because of approvals and the level of grant applications. Updated information on grant availability is provided on the FC website or by contacting the conservancy.

The Conservancy will continue to provide a range of other non-grant support to the sector such as advice and staff time invested in delivery projects under the Regional Forestry Framework.

Details of grant offer conditions, transition arrangements and normal business rules are given in Annex 2. Regional availability of specific grants will be regularly updated on the website or by contacting the conservancy.

Regional allocations may be re-deployed in the light of actual demand (applications and uptake by existing contract holders) and taking account of our national targets and priorities for support. We therefore cannot guarantee to spend all of each allocated regional grant budget.

² All grant type applications with the exception of WCG will be based on a first come, first served regional basis. WCG applications will be assessed through a scoring and judging round to determine the applications capable of delivering highest public benefits.

³ We will stop making offers earlier once budget limits have been reached.

⁴ We may stop making offers earlier each year if actual claims against existing agreements are higher than expected during the current financial year and/or targets have been reached. If earlier deadlines become necessary to enforce we will try and publicise these in advance.

Application
Timetable and Rural Development
Regulation
2007-2013

For all EWGS grant types under Prospectus 2006 we will operate the application deadline dates as shown in Table 1 above. We also need to take account of the end of the current Rural Development Regulation on 31 December 2006, which affects the nature of most EWGS contracts we can offer. At the time of publishing this Prospectus the final Rural Development Regulation (RDR) transition arrangements affecting ERDP schemes such as EWGS are not known. Deadlines may be subject to revision later in 2006 as EU rules prescribing the transition to RDR 2007-13 become clearer. We will aim to operate similar application arrangements to those relating to Environmental Stewardship. Revised rules and/or rates may apply to certain grant types for contracts signed after 31 December 2006 and further details will be published when these are known. The aim is to help both applicants and FC plan their respective work and ensure we can process applications and issue contracts in time so that work can take place and payments are made in the appropriate financial year.

Rural Development
Programme
– Public Consultation

Defra's public consultation on the new Rural Development Programme for England (RDPE) priorities, including those relating to woodlands, is open for comments until 22 May 2006 and can be accessed online at:
http://www.defra.gov.uk/erdp/rdp07_13/default.htm

In the Northwest the Forestry Commission is working with regional colleagues in Natural England colleagues, the NWDA and GONW to produce a Regional Implementation Plan for the RDPE. This will describe the region's priorities for funding under the new RDPE from 2007 – 2013.

A Regional Approach to Supporting England's Woodlands

Each region of England has its own Regional Forestry Framework outlining the opportunities for woodland management and creation in that region. To take forward the regional agenda alongside our commitment to six key national targets, which are set out in our EWGS Applicant's Pack, we are now presenting our second Prospectus for each region. We will:

- enable potential grant applicants to see how the EWGS in each region contributes to national targets;
- use EWGS to support delivery of Regional Forestry Framework action plans;
- provide continuity in the long-term sustainable management of woodland through a rate of change in our programme that is gradual and considered;
- use regional applicant feedback on our grants to inform the future development of EWGS;
- increase the range of advice and support we provide alongside Natural England.

Our allocation of grant budgets to the regions for 2007/08 continues to be based on existing agreements and historic trends and they are part of the overall national grant management strategy.

We retain a remit to deliver overarching national targets such as the England Rural Development Plan woodland creation target of 30,000 hectares by 2007.

Each Regional Prospectus represents our best forecast of grant availability but we cannot guarantee to spend all of each allocated regional grant budget. We may decide to move funds between regions in order to ensure delivery of national targets, optimise uptake of the total grants budget, and maximise overall public benefits.

Our partnerships budget is used to initiate, and buy influence in, a diverse range of national and regional partnership initiatives that help to take forward England Forestry Strategy and Regional Forestry Frameworks. In each region we aim to focus investment in market and business development, capacity building and delivery partnerships that can access new sources of funding for the woodlands and forestry sector. Our proposals for this funding are managed through our business planning process on an annual basis.

Normal Grant
Offer Conditions

We have to ensure that our existing commitments, as well as any new contract commitments we agree for a financial year do not exceed our budget. So we will not normally enter into new contracts for payment after 31 March in the preceding financial year. This means, for example, 31 March 2007 would be the latest approval date for a contract with a first claim year of 1 April 2007 to 31 March 2008. We may also stop making offers earlier each year if actual claims against existing agreements are higher than expected, or once targets and/or budget limits have been reached during the current financial year. Our plan for EWGS operation in future involves ensuring that only one Grant Prospectus is open at any time for applications.

Transition
Arrangements for Prospectus
2005

For 2006 we recognise that this strategy could have consequences for some of our potential grant customers as EWGS is still a relatively new scheme and some grant components have only been available since November 2005. To help ensure continuity of work and planning we will operate an extended application period for woodland management and improvement grants under Prospectus 2005 as outlined in Table 1.

Applications and Contracts –
Business Rules

Only completed applications accompanied by an acceptable map received in FC Conservancy offices by the date shown will be considered for grant contracts. EWGS contracts offered under Prospectus 2005 will have a first payment year of 2006/07. EWGS contracts offered under Prospectus 2006 will have a first payment year of 2007/08. All grant types are subject to national cash limits and are awarded on a first come-first served basis in each region. Where higher than expected claims against existing agreements (such as rescheduling of old schemes) or a shortfall in targets is identified, we may transfer funding between regions in order to respond to its national priorities. Each grant component of EWGS is subject to clear eligibility and application rules. Please speak to your local Forestry Commission contact about your proposals.
